

Parent Consultation Results

September 2014

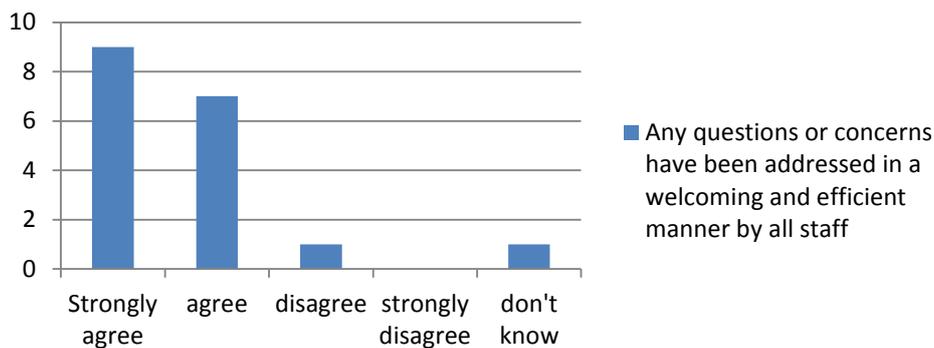

We consulted the parents of the EYFS pupils on the induction process for starting school. We sent a paper version of the results we received by Tuesday 16th September. The following graphs include a further set of responses we received by Friday 19th September. We received 18 responses from a possible 20 which is an excellent response, thank you.

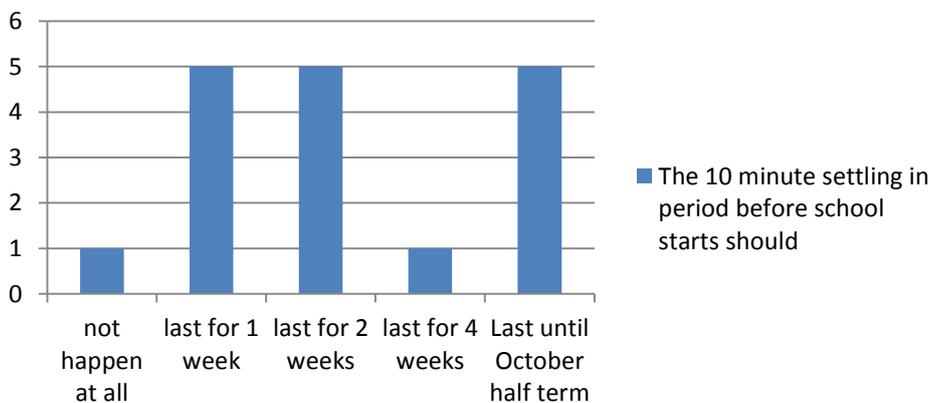

The induction process and information materials are detailed and clear

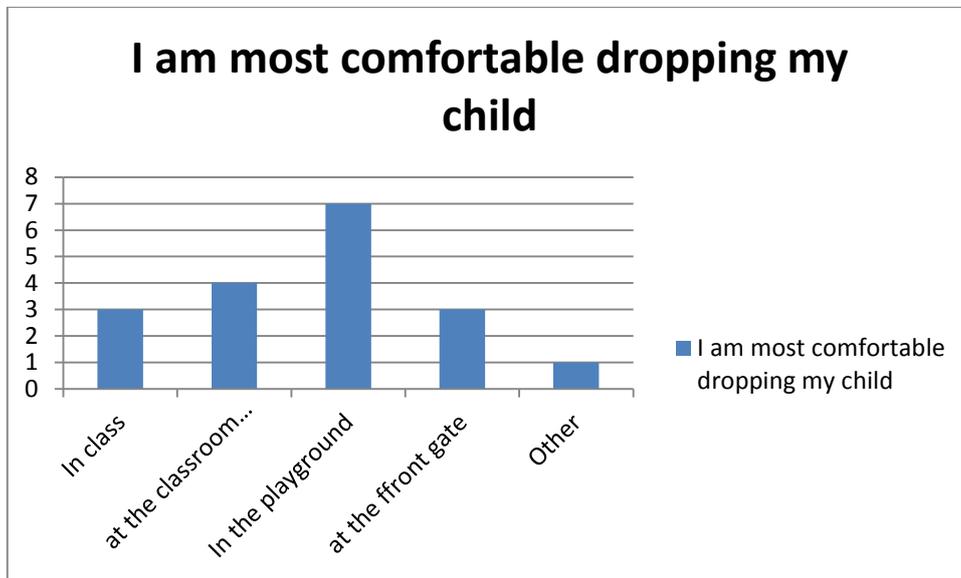

Any questions or concerns have been addressed in a welcoming and efficient manner by all staff

The 10 minute settling in period before school starts should

As a result of the information we received, the EYFS team altered the arrangements in the mornings so that most pupils could be dropped off in the little playground whilst, those who still needed a little more support continued to come into class with a member of staff. By the time of this report, most pupils were being left with the adult on duty in the little playground.
